New Amsterdam Theatre.

Klaw & Erlanger's great spectacle, "Mother Goose," at the New Amsterdam Theatre is a marvellously interesting entertainment, presenting a greater measure of amusement than was ever before afforded by any theatrical production. For three solid hours, from the rise of the curtain to its final fall, an unbroken procession of comicality and novelty is seen. Laughter and wonder are the keynotes of the piece—laughter at the humor of the comedians and wonder over its remarkably beautiful spectacular features and the unusually brilliant specialties.

Christmas Cheer.

The governors of the Mountainside Hospital are glad to tell the many friends of the hospital of the Christmas cheer their generosity and thoughtfulness gave to those who were ill as well as those who were caring for them. Early in the morning Christmas carols were sung by the nurses, and the Christmas greeting was heard through the building, already made cheerful with greens and holly and a Christmas tree. The governors had provided gifts and they were given to patients, nurses and employees. At dinner hour the trays made attractive by fruit, flowers and a card, and filled with good things where it was advisable, brought delight as the bountiful dinner did later to the nurses and household.

The afternoon was brightened by some young ladies who had previously dressed the tree, singing carols and going to each bedside with a thoughtfully selected card. All felt the Christmas spirit of peace on earth good will towards men, and knew many friends had helped in making the day bright.

A musicale was given in the Glen Ridge Club House Thursday night. The soloists were Miss Hildegard Hoffman, soprano; Miss Amy Ruth, alto; Dr. Ion Jackson, tenor; Harvey Self, baseo; R. A. Gayler, accompanist.

The Genius of Labor.

Two hundred persons, waiting for a train, intently watched an old man driving six inch spikes with an iron maul. Now, there is nothing unusual or extraordinary about driving spikes with a maul, even though the head of a spike is only three-eighths of an inch square and that of the maul only three-quarters. But there was a fascination in this old man's work. His genius for driving spikes was manifest. He never missed a blow. He never needed more than three blows to send a spike home with its head buried in the planking. He always gave three. There was a rhythmic harmony in his task that appealed to all. In his particular line he excelled. That is the genius of labor.—New York Press.

Broadway Theatre.

Beginning Monday evening, January 11, Messrs. John C. Fisher and Thomas F. Ryley will present at the Broadway Theatre, New York, the new musical comedy "The Medal and the Maid," which was a big success at the Lyric Theatre, London, last year. The piece is the joint work of Owen Hall and Sydney Jones, the former being the author of "Florodora" and "The Silver Slipper," and the latter the composer of "San Toy" and "The Geisha." Mr. James T. Powers will be seen in the leading comedy role, that of "Simon Pentweazle," a dealer in second-hand clothes, who has rather an exasperating habit of making poetical quotations.

ORDINANCE.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE LAYING OUT AND OPENING OF OLIVE STREET.

Whereas a petition in writing signed by the owners of lands situate within the Town of Bloomfield, in the County of Essex, which will be specially benefitted by the proposed improvements, to lay out and open a certain public road in the Town of Bloomfield, to be known by the name of Olive Street, as therein described, has been duly presented to the Town Council of Bloomfield at a stated meeting thereof; and

Whereas, the said petition having been by the said Town Council referred to the Board of Assessors (composed of Seymour Gilbert, Thomas Rawson, junior, and Lewis Cockefair, the last named having been appointed by the Town Council to act in the matter with said Board of Assessors in the place and stead of Henry P. Dodd, a regular member of said Board of Assessors, who, by reason of his being personally interested in the assessments made for this improvement, was ineligible under the law to act as a member of said Board of Assessors in this particular case), who were assisted by the Town Surveyor, not interested in said improvement, and appointed by the Town Council for that purpose; and the said Board of Assessors having made a report, accompanied by a map showing the real estate to be taken for the proposed improvement, and all the lots and parcels of land within the Town of Bloomfield, which in their judgment will be specially benefitted thereby; and the said Board of Assessors having appraised the value of the interest of each known owners of real estate to be taken for said improvement, and estimate of expenses likely in their judgment to attend the completion of the proposed improvement; and determined the probable net cost of the same, which probable net cost they have assessed upon the land to be specially benefitted in proportion to the benefit to be received; and

Whereas, the report of the said Board of Assessors made under their hands of the facts ascertained and of the appraisements, estimates, determination and assessments made by them concerning said improvement; and presented such report and their map to the Town Council, at a stated meeting thereof; and

Whereas, the Town Council has caused notice of the filing of said report and map to be printed and published in the Bloomfield CITIZEN (the official newspaper of the Town of Bloomfield), which said notice also contained a general description of the improvement intended, of the land to be taken, and of the land to be assessed therefore, and stating the time and place, when and where the Town Council would meet to hear and consider any objections to said report or to the improvement, which might be presented in writing. Notices to the same effect having also been posted and served as the law directs; and

Whereas, objections in writing to the said report and the proposed improvement were presented, at the time and place in said notices named, and the Council having considered and adjudicated upon such objections, the Town Council by an affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of all the members of the Town Council resolved to alter, amend, adjust and increase some of the awards made by the said Board of Assessors; and the Town Council having determined to make said improvement notwithstanding the objections to the same; and having confirmed said awards as altered, amended, adjusted and increased; therefore

Be it ordained by the Council of the Town of Bloomfield, in the County of Essex, that a street or public highway, to be known under and by the name of Olive Street, in the Town of Bloomfield; said street to be fifty feet wide, and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the westerly side of Hinrichs Place two hundred and fifty and four-tenths feet southerly from Myrtle Street; thence south seventy degrees thirty-one minutes west one hundred and eighty-two and twenty-five hundredths feet; thence south seventy-six degrees fifty-seven minutes west four hundred feet, more or less, to an angle; thence north seventy-five degrees eight minutes west fifty-six feet, more or less, to the East Orange city line; thence southeasterly, along the said East Orange line, one hundred and five feet, more or less, to the southerly side of the herein proposed street; thence north seventy-six degrees fifty-seven minutes east three hundred and seventy-eight feet, more or less, to an angle; thence north seventy degrees thirty-one minutes east one hundred and eighty-two and fifty-two hundredths feet to the westerly side of Hinrichs Place; thence along the westerly side of Hinrichs Place fifty feet to the place of beginning and ending there.

And that the said street or highway, as hereinbefore described, be and the same is hereby directed to be opened and graded to a proper grade for public use as a street of said town, under the supervision of the Board of Assessors of the Town of Bloomfield.

Ordinance adopted January 4, 1904.

GEORGE PETERSON,
Chairman Town Council.
